K3000	Kestrel	Ketstrel 3000 Pocket Weather Meter	The Kestrel 3000 is the ONLY hand-held instrument for measuring wind speed, temperature, wind chill, relative humidity, heat index and dew point temperature. Pocket-sized and easy-to-use. Measuring modes and display units can be changed at any time. The large liquid crystal display is easy to read, even in low light. The Kestrel 3000 measures wind speed with a large-diameter precision ultralight impeller which turns on sapphire bearings. The impeller and protective housing pop out without tools for easy and inexpensive replacement. The Kestrel uses an external thermistor for fast response and accuracy to +/- 1.0ºC. The capacitive humidity sensor is factory calibrated to +/- 3% accuracy and can be recalibrated in the field with our Relative Humidity Calibration Kit. A hard slip-on case protects the Kestrel 3000 display, buttons and impeller from damage. The Kestrel 3000 is covered by a full one-year warranty and is also protected by US patent No. 5,753,784.	$0.00	$0.00

			The Kestrel 2000 relies upon a precision ultralight impeller mounted on jewel bearings to measure wind speed. It provides excellent accuracy (± 3%) and the ability to measure the slightest breeze (0.3 M/S). It is protected be a reinforced fiberglass housing and can be replaced easily and affordably should it become damaged or worn. For temperature readings, the Kestrel uses a fast-responding thermistor accurate to +/-1 °C. Wind chill is calculated from wind and temperature data using the U.S. National Weather Service's official tables. The Kestrel 2000 is waterproof and floats and comes with a convenient neck lanyard. The battery is easy to replace and provides 400 hours of use. The protective case prevents damage to the unit. Performance is guaranteed for one full year.
